Harvest 2013

Like each vintage we carefully hand-harvested the various blocks of our Randle Hill Vineyard. This mainly south-facing vineyard has altitude at 1,000 to 1,250 feet. The Sauvignon Blanc was picked on Sep. 16th and 20th and the Semillon on Oct. 12th.

Winemaker Notes

This is our 21st consecutive vintage of Sauvignon Blanc. Some of the vines were planted over 30 years ago. The grapes were crushed and then the juice gently squeezed off in our bladder press and left to cold settle in a tank for 24 hours. It was then racked to traditional, seasoned Bordeaux oak barrels for fermentation with various lots inoculated with two different yeasts. The wine was aged five months in the same barrels. Then it was racked into a tank, settled, fined, and sterile filtered before bottling.

Food Pairing

Outstanding chefs at special Yorkville WineMaker Dinners over the years have paired our past Sauvignon Blanc vintages with:

Lightly Breaded Pacific Skate Wing over Baby Greens tossed in a Lemon Infused Olive Oil (Spark Woodfire and Grill, Los Angeles. Jun 8, 2005)

Mexican White Prawn Poached in Garlic Oil with a Timbale of Summer Squash, Oven-Roasted Tomato and Tapenade (Rendezvous Inn & Restaurant, Ft. Bragg, CA. July 8, 2002)

Roasted Monkfish with Asparagus and Lobster Sauce (Trellis Restaurant at Inn on the Common, Craftsbury, VT. Feb 4, 2005)
